I started my trip walking down Tottenham Court road near Middlesex Hospital. Then I went to Trafalgar Square and Piccadily Circus. I walked through Saint James's Park to go to the Tate Gallery.
After having eaten my sandwich, I crossed Thames Imperial War Museum.
Jumping in a taxi, I went to tower Brigde and the Tower of London. Then I went to bed because I was very tired...

We started our walk at the Royal Academy. Then we went to Buckingham Palace to watch the changing of the guard. Afterwards, we walked down Buckingham Palace road and King's road to admire Saint Luke's church and turned right to go to Victoria and Albert Museum. Then we jumped in a taxi to go to the British Museum. After the museum, it was lunch time so we went to Oxford Street to go to a restaurant. Now we are visiting Tower Bridge. Circle the place we arrived red...
